

Actuarial Services for Construction Risk Managers

Gross Consulting can help you analyze and manage your risk by providing the following actuarial services for risk managers in the construction industry:

- Accurately estimate SIR accruals and captive reserve estimates.
- Project and document implied retained self insurance costs.
- Help you to allocate insurance costs to operating units in relation to risk.
- Provide risk transfer testing for captives.
- Assist with data base and reporting system design surrounding insurance claims.
- Represent our analysis in meetings with your auditors.
- Provide meaningful reports and information.

Your benefits:

- Understanding the range of risk associated with your insurance program.
- Document the cost of retained risk to aid in the recovery of those costs.
- Unlock your insurance data to discern meaningful information.
- Reducing the time and cost of audits pertaining to SIR bookings and captive reserves.

At Gross Consulting we have staff with significant experience working with insurance products tailored for the construction market. We have worked with the largest insurers of construction risks in the U.S. and understand the nuances of this business including construction defect and working through documentation for various regulatory bodies.
